Robert Bolton – Death & Taxes

Mr. Bolton concentrates his practice on tax planning for closely-held businesses and their owners, and on estate and wealth preservation planning.

Mr. Bolton's business practice includes tax and business planning for partnerships, limited liability companies and corporations. Mr. Bolton represents clients in mergers, acquisitions and sales, executive compensation, planning for management and ownership transitions, as well as planning, structuring and executing other types of business transactions.

Mr. Bolton's practice also focuses on the transfer of business interests to family members or key employees in the most tax efficient manner to provide the second (or third) generation with the best opportunity of continuing the closely-held business.

A significant portion of Mr. Bolton's practice involves estate planning and asset protection strategies to protect business and investment assets from unwarranted claims and the federal estate, gift and generation-skipping transfer taxes. Such planning involves the creative design and implementation of sophisticated planning techniques involving family limited partnerships, family corporations, private placement life insurance and various types of domestic and international trusts.

Mr. Bolton is Board Certified - Tax Law, by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. He is a member of the State Bar of Texas, the American Bar Association, and various estate and tax planning associations. He is also a CPA, and a member of the Texas Society of CPAs and the American Society of CPAs. Mr. Bolton received his B.B.A. in Accounting from Baylor University, his J.D. from the University of Texas and his LL. M. in Taxation from New York University.

A Message From the District Governor

World Understanding Month provides an opportunity for every club to pause, plan and promote the Fourth Avenue of Service – Rotary's continued quest to bridge continents and build communities among people of the world through International Service.

International Service doesn't have to be on another continent and this concept is best embraced by Frank Deaver, RGHF Committee Editorial Writer when he said, "World understanding is a noble and worthy Rotary goal, but it does not begin on the other side of the world. It begins where we are. It begins at our very doorstep."

(2007) Our understanding of the world as Rotarians is perhaps above that of the average American because we are among the privileged. We are community leaders, business owners, managers, retirees and executives. Most importantly, though, we are stewards of goodwill because we serve. We serve those less fortunate than us, we serve those in need regardless of where they are and it is this very journey that takes us all over the world. The need may be worthy of international efforts, while existing here in our own backyard.

Foundation alumni reconnect at Ray's Rotary Reunions

More than 350 Rotarians and Rotary Foundation alumni from 25 countries gathered for Ray's Rotary Reunions in Cape Town, South Africa, 3-5 February.

Hosted by District 9350 (Angola; Namibia; South Africa), the event was designed by RI President Ray Klinginsmith, a 1960-61 Ambassadorial Scholar at the University of Cape Town.

"Ray's Rotary Reunions gave alumni the chance to reconnect with an organization that meant so much to them in kick-starting their careers," says Rodney Mazinter, chair of the reunions committee.

The first reunion, held on 3 February, reconnected former Ambassadorial Scholars who studied at the University of Cape Town and graduates of the university who spent their Rotary scholarship abroad. Attendees ranged from recent alumni in their 20s to 85-year-old Henry Kreh of the Rotary Club of Marathon, Florida, USA, the first Rotary Scholar to study at UCT.

"The gathering of so many leaders who have made a difference in communities across the globe through the help of Rotary was simply inspiring to me," says Betsy Sutherland, a 2010-11 Ambassadorial Scholar from South Carolina, USA, studying at UCT. "The relationship we all shared enabled us to talk about goals and projects we felt were important to populations within the African continent."

At the second reunion, UCT alumni were joined by Rotary Scholars who studied at any university in Africa and those from African universities who studied abroad. Former Group Study Exchange team members who were sponsored or hosted by Rotary districts in Africa also took part, joined by many Rotarians.

Throughout the reunions, attendees participated in instructive programs that included addresses by government and professional leaders who have made a difference in Africa. In addition to Klinginsmith, featured speakers included former South African President and Nobel Peace Prize laureate F.W. de Klerk; former South African Constitutional Court Judge Catherine O'Regan; Peter Kyle, a member of the Rotary Club of Capitol Hill (Washington, D.C.) and recipient of the 2009-10 Rotary Foundation Global Alumni Service to Humanity Award; and Francis Moloi, chief director of the South African Department of International Relations and Cooperation. O'Regan, Kyle, and Moloi are all former Rotary Scholars.

"As I complete a circle in my life from being a Rotary Scholar at UCT in 1961 to being the RI president 50 years later, I have learned much about life from my visits to Africa," Klinginsmith says. "I believe the reunions are a good learning experience for everyone."

On the last two days, a Rotary projects expo gave clubs the chance to seek out partners and make connections to facilitate international service projects in support of Rotary's Reach Out to Africa initiative. Launched in 2007, the initiative matches the resources of the Foundation and clubs in developed economies with needs in Africa. The projects expo was also open to alumni.

"I'm working on a project that will establish a library for a school located in an impoverished area of Cape Town," says Sutherland. "As a result of [the initiative] and the projects expo, I linked up with a Rotary club who supports literacy in schools and has offered to help with the project."

Former Ambassadorial Scholars number more than 41,000 worldwide, and the reunions were an experimental model that Klinginsmith hopes will be implemented by other universities in the future.

"Ray's Rotary Reunions have been a highlight of my past year here in Cape Town," says Sutherland. "It was filled with wonderful fellowship of Rotarians from all over the world and a celebration of what Rotary can achieve."

Today's Thoughts in Honor of

St. Patricks Day – March 17

When law can stop the blades of grass from growin' as they grow,
An' when the leaves in summer time their color dare not show,
Then I will change the color, too, I wear in my caubeen;
But till that day, please God, I'll stick to the Wearin' o' the Green.

Extraterrestrial Abductions Day – March 20

Babies have big heads and big eyes, and tiny little bodies with tiny little arms and legs. So did the aliens at Roswell! I rest my case.

- William Shatner (1931 –)

A minister parked his car in a no-parking zone in a large city because he was short of time and couldn't find a space with a meter. Then he put a note under the windshield wiper that read: "I have circled the block 10 times. If I don't park here, I'll miss my appointment. Forgive us our trespasses."

When he returned, he found a citation from a police officer along with this note: "I've circled this block for 10 years. If I don't give you a ticket I'll lose my job. 'Lead us not into temptation.'"
