George Fuller

Mayoral Candidate

The Four Way Test
of the things we think say or do....

1. Is It the Truth
2. Is It Fair to All Concerned
3. Will it Build Goodwill and better Friendships
4. Will it be Beneficial to all Concerned

George Fuller – Mayoral Candidate

George C. Fuller is a community-focused businessman with an 18-year track record of building a better McKinney...literally. A custom home builder, businessman and leading philanthropist, George and his wife, Maylee have actively contributed their time, talents and financial resources to the McKinney community for almost two decades.

As a second generation home and commercial builder, George brought to McKinney a custom home and commercial construction company founded on six decades of experience.

In 1992, George and his wife, Maylee, co-founded the Love Life Foundation, a non-profit organization benefiting children both locally and beyond. The Love Life Foundation provides support to charities such as the Collin County Children's Advocacy Center, The Samaritan Inn, Habitat for Humanity, Agape House and the St. Yared Orphanage- Axum, Ethiopia.

George and Maylee have made faith and family the cornerstone of their lives. They are the proud parents of four beautiful children. Austin, their eldest son, currently attends Virginia Tech on a football scholarship. Raine, their second son, is a 4th grader who is active in karate and theater. Layla Grace, their youngest daughter, is an energetic 2nd grader who enjoys basketball and soccer. On a church mission trip to Axum, Ethiopia, George met and fell in love with their fourth child, Milyan Hope. George and Maylee adopted Milyan who now resides with their family in McKinney and is a healthy, happy fourth grader. George and Maylee have also made the St. Yared Orphanage one of the permanent beneficiaries of their Love Life Foundation. George and his family are members of Community Life Church in McKinney.

Last Weeks Speaker – Ashley Amerman-Make A Wish

At last weeks meeting, Ashley Amerman came to our club to speak about the Make a wish Foundation. She spoke about how the Make A Wish organization accepts wish kids and goes about granting wishes and what types of wishes they grant. She also spoke about how the Make A Wish Foundation is funded and solicits donations and a little about how our club will be involved in the granting of a wish to a local teenager.

As part of our community service program, our director, Stacy Kemp, and her committee has voted to "adopt a wish" as one of it's community service initiatives this year. This means that our club will fund the average cost of a wish, $6000, and we have adopted the wish of an 18 year old McKinney resident who is battling Ewings Sarcoma. His wish was to go to Hawaii and he will be leaving tentatively on June 20. Our club will be organizing a send off party along with his wish grantor and well do what we can along with Ashley to make this as extraordinary of a trip as we can for Ryan.

Today's Thoughts in Honor of Winston Churchill Day – April 9

"To build may have to be the slow and laborious task of years. To destroy can be the thoughtless act of a single day."

- Winston Churchill (1874 – 1965)

National Siblings Day – April 10

I sought my soul, but my soul I could not see. I sought my God, but my God eluded me. I sought my brother and I found all three.

- Author Unknown

A little old lady was walking down the street dragging two large plastic garbage bags behind her. One of the bags rips, and every once in a while a $20 bill falls out onto the sidewalk.

Noticing this, a policeman stops her, and says, "Ma'am, there are $20 bills falling out of your bag."

"Oh, really? Darn!" said the little old lady. "I'd better go back, and see if I can find them. Thanks for telling me."

"Well, now, not so fast," says the cop. "How did you get all that money? "You didn't steal it, did you?"

"Oh, no", said the little old lady. "You see, my back yard is right next to the football stadium parking lot. On game days, a lot of fans come and pee through the fence into my flower garden.. So, I stand behind the fence with my hedge clippers. Each time some guy sticks his thing through the fence, I say, '$20 or off it comes'.

"Well, that seems only fair," laughs the cop. "OK. Good luck! Oh, by the way, what's in the other bag?"

"Well, you know", "not everybody pays".

Iditarod carries End Polio Now message

Millions of viewers had an opportunity to see the End Polio Now logo during the annual Iditarod Trail Sled Dog Race across the frozen landscape of Alaska, USA.

The Iditarod, which ran 7-24 March, commemorates a race against time to deliver diphtheria serum to Nome during an outbreak of the disease in 1925. Through an agreement between the Iditarod Trail Committee and District 5010, which covers parts of Canada, Russia, and the United States, this year's race built awareness of a similar race to the finish: Rotary's efforts to eradicate polio.

All mushers wore bibs with the End Polio Now logo emblazoned across the bottom. In addition, District 5010 secured a $27,500 PR grant to sponsor four-time Iditarod champion Martin Buser, a Multiple Paul Harris Fellow and an honorary member of the Rotary Club of Wasilla Sunrise, who worked with Rotary to produce two public service announcements appearing on television and online.

Buser, who came in 18th in this year's race, displayed the End Polio Now logo prominently on his team's apparel and equipment, and symbolically carried three empty polio vaccine vials on his sled. He will continue to serve as a spokesman for polio eradication throughout the year at other events and appearances.

"The End Polio Now labels all over my sled and race gear were like Teflon -- they stood out above and beyond everything else," he says. "Through miles and miles of blowing snow, the red and white really cut through, and amplified the message."

"It's such a natural fit," Buser says, of using the race to promote polio eradication. "The Iditarod began as a lifesaving race, and End Polio Now is a lifesaving race."

Alaska's preeminent event

Clubs also used the excitement surrounding the event to raise funds for Rotary's US\$200 Million Challenge. The Rotary Club of Anchorage East raised $15,000 during a live prerace auction at Chilkoat Charlie's, a bar in Anchorage. The Rotary Club of Anchorage International held a dinner party near Willow, where the race was restarted after its ceremonial launch in Anchorage, with donations going toward the challenge.

"What was exciting for us, as Alaskan Rotarians, is that the Iditarod is our preeminent event," says Trygve Erickson, past president of the Anchorage International club, who hosted the party with his fiancée Kimberly O'Meara, another past club president. "It was exciting to have the End Polio Now message attached to such an international sporting event."

Rotary Youth Exchange students and Rotaractors collected coins for the challenge before and after the race and handed out End Polio Now materials. The Rotary Club of Nome held a postrace fundraiser.

Past District Governor Alana Bergh, the District 5010 Rotary Foundation Committee chair, says the main idea behind the collaboration with the Iditarod Trail Committee was to "raise awareness that polio is still out there, and that you still have to immunize your children."

"We wanted to make sure people talk about it," she explains, noting that the Iditarod committee's Web site, www.iditarod.com, receives millions of hits during the race. The site featured a link to information about Rotary's efforts to end polio.

Chas St. George, a spokesman for the Iditarod and a member of the Rotary Club of Wasilla, says more than 500 media representatives from around the world converge on Alaska to cover the two-week event.
