Bob Rusoff – History and the Historian

Bob was born in Tiffin, Ohio. He lived with his parents in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Ohio. After earning a Bachelor of Arts degree in History at Ohio Wesleyan University, he attended The Ohio State University and earned a Master of Arts Degree in History. Bob's thesis was entitled, "William Eleroy Curtis and Pan Americanism".

In August 1962, Bob went on active duty in the United States Air Force as an Intelligence Officer. During his four years at March Air Force Base, he was responsible for the administration of an Intelligence Library, Air Target Chart production and the deployment of a 35mm film data storage and retrieval system.

After leaving the United States Air Force in August 1966, Bob entered the civilian workforce and began his 42-year career in the field of domestic and international procurement at McDonnell Douglas (now Boeing) in Long Beach, California. He recently completed fifteen (15) years of service in procurement at Beckman Coulter, Inc. Mr. Rusoff managed the company's 40M purchasing card program for over seven hundred (700) cardholders for over five (5) years while negotiating software licenses and consulting/service agreements for Information Technology and agreements for temporary labor, janitorial, landscaping, notified bodies, and security services for his internal customers.

Academically, Bob taught American History at Long Beach City College for five years and International Purchasing at Coastline Community College for nine years. In 2004, Bob and his wife, Judy, co-authored an International Procurement Book, entitled "Introduction to International Procurement and Global Supply Chain".

Bob joined Rotary in Fountain Valley, California in 1987 and has been active ever since, except for a 2 year break, serving as Club Secretary, Club President, District Speech Chair, District Vocational Service Director, District Conference Registration Chair and author/producer of the "The Trial of the Century" for the 2000 District Conference.

In September 2008, Bob and Judy moved to McKinney to be near their grandchildren. Bob has continued to be involved in Rotary initially as a member of the Prosper Rotary Club and now the McKinney Sunrise Rotary Club. He is currently a member of the District Grant Committee and the incoming chair for Rotaract in addition to serving as the McKinney Sunrise Rotary Club's International Director. Both Bob and his wife, Judy, are multiple Paul Harris Fellows.

Boy Scout Flag Sales Day & Picnic

The Boy Scout flag sales day and picnic was a huge success. The participating Scout groups sold 86 "new" flag leases for total revenue of $3790. The Scout troops received $380 for their efforts. A huge thanks to everyone who came out to help with the hot dog cookout.

Rotary clubs make changes to attract younger members

When Rotarians in Walnut Creek, California, USA, found it difficult to attract young professionals to the area's morning and afternoon clubs, they set out to establish a new club that would accommodate busy, on-the-go schedules.

The Rotary Club of Diablo View (Walnut Creek), chartered in 2009, meets in a local brewery at 5:30 p.m. every Thursday. Club president Jennifer Beeman says the club sets aside time each week for socializing before turning to club business, and that the relaxed atmosphere appeals to younger members.

Beeman was only 24 years old when she became a charter member of the club, and she's now one of the youngest female club presidents in Rotary. The club has 26 members, 90 percent of them between the ages of 25 and 40.

"Because we have younger members, our attitude is different. People have told us how refreshing it is to have young faces behind Rotary," Beeman says.

She says the club carries out many projects in the community so that members have an opportunity to do hands-on service. Every month, for instance, it plans an outdoor project, such as cleaning up nature trails. Younger Rotarians usually have more time than cash at their disposal, she says, so they tend to contribute by volunteering.

The club recruits new members through social media like Twitter and Facebook, and it has a mentoring program to help with retention. All new members are assigned a mentor, who spends extra time with them outside regular meetings.

"The modifications we've made have helped our club appeal to younger professionals and retain them," Beeman says. "They've created a high-energy club."

Beeman says clubs must be willing to make a few changes to attract younger members. Here are some examples of what other clubs are doing:

- Through a student membership initiative, the Rotary Club of Hope Island, Queensland, Australia, invites college-age students to meetings and subsidizes the cost to bring a youthful perspective to the club.
- The Rotary Club of Las Vegas, Nevada, USA, has created the 25 Club, a club-within-a-club. The members hold additional meetings, sponsor regular social gatherings, and carry out a number of service projects. The inductees are generally younger, and after a year, they transition into the parent Rotary club.

- The Rotary Club of Crawley, Western Australia, Australia, started a mentoring program that helps new members transition into the club. The club's average age is now in the 30s.
- The Rotary Club of Bricktown Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, USA, meets in a tavern. First-time guests are treated to two free beverages, compliments of the club.
- The Rotary Club of South Metro Minneapolis Evenings, Minnesota, USA, meets in the evenings and lowers costs by not having meals. The third meeting of the month is a happy hour/networking event at different locations in the city. The fourth meeting is a volunteering opportunity.
