Installation Banquet

Our Clubs Annual Installation Banquet is quickly approaching. It will be held on Wednesday evening, June 10th and is an event we would like to see every club member attend. The time and location of the banquet will be announced soon so please make plans to keep that evening free so we will see you there.

Our First Flag Holiday of the Year

The Memorial Day Flag Holiday has been a great success with only a few missed flags handled quickly by the dedicated members of our club. A huge thank you to every member of our club as each and every one of you played a part in making it the success it was. From the install teams to the prep teams, the pick up and drop off shed team, and a special thanks to Chuck Koehler, Jeff Caserotti, Bryan Northington, and Sandi Froese for keeping everything organized so that our biggest flag season ever went off nearly flawlessly. Let's keep the momentum going, as our next flag weekend is just a couple of weeks away on Flag Day from June 14th through June 16th.

- New flag customer cut-off day is Tuesday, June 2nd.
- Prepping of new/renewal flag sites by Install Teams>>> starts Thursday, June 4th.
 - Completion of flag site 'preps' is Thursday, June 11th.
 - We already have 22 new/renewals sites to 'prep'.
- Friday, June 12th - Partners pick-up flags at Shed>>>5:15 PM to 6:30 PM.
- Saturday, June 13th - flag delivery to our customers.
- Monday, June 15th - Partners deliver-back flags to Shed>>>5:30 PM to 7:00 PM.

We have depleted our supply of flags and need to have a new flag assembly day for approximately 200 new flags. That day is Saturday, June 6th >>> 8:30 AM to 11:15 AM at the Shed.

Today's Thoughts in Honor of

Save your hearing Day – May 31

It is the province of knowledge to speak and it is the privilege of wisdom to listen.

- Oliver Wendell Holmes(1809 – 1894)

Dare Day – June 1

“It is not because things are difficult that we do not dare, it is because we do not dare that things are difficult.”

- Seneca the Younger (4 BC – AD 65)

Once upon a time, long, long ago there was a season when neither the Sooners nor the Longhorns made the BCS Bowl Series. It seemed so unusual that the coaches of both teams got together and decided that there should be some sort of competition between the two teams, because of their great rivalry. So, they decided on a weeklong ice fishing competition. The team that catches the most fish at the end of the week wins.

So on a cold northern Wisconsin lake they began their contest.

The first day after 8 hours of fishing the Sooners had caught 100 fish and the Longhorns had 0. At the end of the 2nd day the Sooners had caught 200 fish and the Longhorns 0.

That evening the Longhorns coach got his team together and said, "I suspect some kind of cheating is taking place." So the next morning he dressed one of his players in crimson and cream and sent him over to the Sooner camp to act as a spy. At the end of the day he came back to report to the coach. The coach asked, "Well, how about it, are they cheating?"

"They sure are!" the player reported. "They're cutting holes in the ice."

Iran releases former Rotary Scholar, journalist

The 11 May release of former Rotary Foundation Ambassadorial Scholar and U.S. journalist Roxana Saberi, imprisoned in Iran on charges of spying, brought elation and relief to people worldwide, especially to Rotarians of Fargo, North Dakota.

Saberi, a Fargo native, was arrested in January and initially accused of working with expired press credentials, but authorities later charged her with espionage. Her release came after an Iranian appeals court reduced her eight-year prison sentence to a suspended two-year sentence.

Sponsored by the Rotary Club of Fargo, Saberi was selected as a 1999-2000 Ambassadorial Scholar to attend the University of Cambridge, where she studied journalism.

Fargo club president Joel Fremstad wrote a letter to Mohammad Khazaei, permanent representative of Iran to the United Nations, and Iranian Foreign Minister Manouchehr Mottaki, explaining Saberi's connection to Rotary and its mission and requesting her release.

Fremstad, who worked on Capitol Hill in 2003-04 for U.S. Representative Earl Pomeroy of North Dakota, contacted his former boss to express concern on behalf of all Rotarians in the state. Pomeroy, who was a Rotary Scholar in 1975-76 at Durham University in England, got involved and worked closely with the U.S. State Department on Saberi's release. Days before she was freed, he contacted Khazaei for an update on her situation.

"A lot of people, including Iranian officials, coordinated together so that the proper diplomacy [could] take action in Saberi's release," says Fremstad. "Everyone was excited and relieved to hear the good news."

"In North Dakota, when a friend or neighbor is in trouble, we come together and lend a hand," says Pomeroy. "That was especially true in Roxana's case, where countless individuals and groups came forward to offer their support."

"As a fellow Rotary Scholar, I am especially proud of the work Rotarians did on Roxana's behalf throughout this ordeal," he says. "We don't know what ultimately led to Roxana's release, but I am confident that the rallies, letters, and countless displays of support for Roxana back home played no small part."

Gary Nolte, past governor of District 5580, who helped select Saberi for the Ambassadorial Scholarships program, rejoiced after hearing the news of her release.

"It was an absolute rush when I heard," says Nolte, a member of the Rotary Club of Moorhead, Minnesota, USA. "Saberi is extremely intelligent and confident. During the scholarship interview process, it actually seemed like she was interviewing us. She had everything going for her."

Saberi, whose father was born in Iran, holds dual U.S.-Iranian citizenship. She moved to Iran in 2003, where she worked as a freelance journalist for the BBC and National Public Radio. She plans to return to Fargo, where her family lives.

"We're all very much looking forward to her coming home," says Fremstad. "I'm sure there will be a great celebration upon her return."
