Ken Paxton – State Representative District 70

Ken Paxton was born December 23, 1962 in Minot, North Dakota. He graduated from Baylor University in Waco, Texas, earning a B.A. in Psychology in 1985 and a M.B.A. in 1986. After business school, Rep. Paxton accepted a position with Arthur Andersen as a management consultant. He then attended the University of Virginia School of Law where he earned a J.D. degree in 1991. After law school, Representative Paxton joined the firm of Strasburger & Price, L.L.P, before joining J.C. Penney Company, Inc., as in-house legal counsel.

Mr. Paxton then went into private practice, specializing in estate planning, probate, real estate and general business matters. Additionally, he owns and operates a title company in McKinney. He also speaks on various estate planning, business and real estate topics.

Ken Paxton is currently serving as the State Representative for District 70 which consists of Frisco, Allen, McKinney, Prosper and Celina. He received more general election votes than any other state representative in 2004 and has made the power rankings list by on-line guide Capitol Insider. Additionally, he has been named "Texas Taxpayer Hero" by Texans for Fiscal Responsibility and has been named to the Texas Association of REALTORS Legislative Hall of Fame for his "uncompromising commitment to championing the rights of homeowners." Rep. Paxton serves as Vice Chair of the powerful House State Affairs Committee and as a member of the House Ways and Means committee, which reviews any proposed revenue and tax changes. He is also assigned to the General Investigating and Ethics committee, which oversees the internal affairs of the State.

Ken Paxton lives in McKinney, Texas with his wife, Angela, and their four children; Tucker (15), Abby (13), Madison (11), and Katie (9). Along with his family, Representative Paxton is an active charter member of Stonebriar Community Church in Frisco, where he has participated in various leadership roles.

Installation Banquet

Thanks to everyone who attended our clubs installation banquet this past Wednesday. After a bit of a harrowing start surrounded by tornadic weather and at one point the roof sounding like it was coming unhinged and about to blow away, we all enjoyed a wonderful evening along with District 5810 incoming Governor Dave McSpadden and his wife Marilyn, outgoing District Governor L.B. Showalter and his wife Donna, and Assistant District Governor Ken Brown. Governor McSpadden spoke glowingly about our clubs outstanding history of service to our community and how much we are able to accomplish even with a somewhat smaller membership. Gifts were presented to our clubs outgoing officers, our new incoming officers were sworn in, and Nathan White was sworn in as our incoming president and spoke of his vision for our club over the next year while serving as our clubs leader. A huge thank you to Eric Holt and his team for arranging a wonderful Installation Banquet and to Pamela Zeigler-Petty for her leadership and a great year during her tenure as President.

Today's Thoughts in Honor of

Go Fishing Day – June 18

"In eternity there is indeed something true and sublime. But all these times and places and occasions are now and here. God himself culminates in the present moment and will never be more divine in the lapse of the ages. Time is but a stream I go a-fishing in. I drink at it, but when I drink I see the sandy bottom and detect how shallow it is. Its thin current slides away but eternity remains."

- Henry David Thoreau (1817 – 1862)

Fathers Day – June 21

Until you have a son of your own... you will never know the joy, the love beyond feeling that resonates in the heart of a father as he looks upon his son. You will never know the sense of honor that makes a man want to be more than he is and to pass something good and hopeful into the hands of his son. And you will never know the heartbreak of the fathers who are haunted by the personal demons that keep them from being the men they want their sons to be.

- Kent Nerburn

A murder was committed. Police were called to an apartment and found a man holding a 5-iron in his hands, looking down at the lifeless body of a woman on the floor. The police asked the man 'Did you kill this woman with that golf club?'

The man answered 'Yes, yes I did.'

'How many times did you hit her?'

'I don't know, six or seven...put me down for five.'

Reused canes, walkers get people moving

A woman in Tanzania who has lost both of her legs above the knee crawls on her hands and stumps, begging at the side of the road.

A disabled grandmother in the Usa River Valley is unable to leave her house and yet has to take care of 12 grandchildren, many orphaned by AIDS. A carpenter living nearby needs crutches before he can walk.

These are images that stay with David Talbot, a professional photographer and member of the Rotary Club of Mountain Foothills of Evergreen, Colorado, USA.

The founder of Crutches 4 Africa, Talbot is committed to collecting discarded crutches, canes, walkers, and wheelchairs and delivering them to disabled people in need. Because of the program, the Tanzanian woman now has a wheelchair, the grandmother has a walker, and the carpenter has crutches and the supplies to produce them for people in his community.

The organization has distributed 6,000 mobility devices to people in Ghana, Kenya, Sierra Leone, Tanzania, and Uganda over the past four years, with a goal of one million units within 10 years.

"The need is obvious to anyone who's been to Africa," Talbot says. "You just open your eyes and look, and you see these people everywhere."

By conservative estimates, 15 million people in Africa lack adequate mobility devices, he says.

A polio survivor, Talbot first witnessed this need in 2005, when he went to Uganda to work on a documentary film. Back in Colorado, he began partnering with Rotary clubs, schools, and businesses -- some as far away as New York -- to collect crutches.

In the United States, Talbot notes, doctors often allow patients to use only new equipment because of insurance requirements and malpractice concerns. As a result, devices that are no longer needed pile up in homes across the country. "I see crutches at yard and estate sales all the time," he says.

Many U.S. hospitals have a surplus of used crutches, walkers, and wheelchairs.

"I met a guy who works at a landfill in Denver who told me that they had buried a whole trash bin full of crutches and wheelchairs that had come from a hospital," Talbot says. "The stuff we throw away can be used."

Crutches 4 Africa ships the devices by ocean liner, and Talbot and other volunteers fly to various countries in Africa -- often with dismantled crutches packed into their luggage -- and work with local Rotary clubs to manage distribution. Each pair of crutches costs about US$3 to ship, Talbot says, but the clubs and other connections can help lower that amount.

The organization's most recent distribution to Kenya and Tanzania in February and March got a boost when a Denver business associate put Talbot in touch with a member of the band Steppenwolf. The rock star was going on safari with high-end tour company Abercrombie & Kent and arranged for 350 units to be loaded at no cost aboard the tour's chartered Icelandair plane in unused cargo space.

Talbot looks over an image of two brothers in Uganda, one pulling the other along on a scrap of old blanket because he couldn't walk.

"It's not a good way to travel," Talbot says. "We have what they need -- let's give it to them."

Talbot collaborated with Steve Baroch, of the Rotary Club of Castle Rock High Noon, Colorado, on the Kenya and Tanzania trip. See Baroch's winning photo in The Rotarian's annual photo contest.

Crutches 4 Africa gave several pairs of crutches to a state-run home for the elderly in the Moshi District. At first, the woman there didn't believe it when he said they were free, Talbot remembers.
