Kelley Stone – Collin County Dept. of Homeland Security

Kelley Stone is the Director of Collin County's Department of Homeland Security, which combines the county's fire marshal, emergency management, bioterrorism, courthouse security, fusion system, and homeland security efforts.

In addition to creating and managing the precedent-setting, multi-discipline Homeland Security Department, Director Stone is responsible for leading Collin County's threat prevention and emergency response activities.

As a nationally recognized fusion system leader, Director Stone is responsible for operating the award-winning North Central Texas Fusion System, which supports the prevention, early warning and response to natural, accidental, and intentional disasters as well as providing information to field and investigative personnel. He also chairs the regional fusion system subcommittee for the U.S. Homeland Security Department's Urban Area Security Initiative.

Director Stone most recently served as the Collin County Sheriff's Department Major in charge of operations. During his 30+year law enforcement career, he has also held patrol officer, sheriff's deputy, field training officer, law enforcement academy instructor, and Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) Task Force Officer.

A Texas native, Director Stone earned his undergraduate degree in business management from LeTourneau University and his Master of Business Administration from the University of Texas at Dallas. He has completed his studies for a cohort Ph.D. in public affairs at the University of Texas at Dallas and is currently writing his dissertation. He is also a graduate of the FBI National Academy, the Law Enforcement Command College, and the Department of Energy's Advanced Tactical Training Program. Kelley completed the Homeland Security Executive Leadership Program at the Naval Postgraduate School in Monterrey, California this February, 2008.

Camp RYLA

Our Club's selections successfully completed their week at Camp RYLA and have returned with some great stories about their time there as well as a new outlook and new leadership skills. From the conversations in the truck on the ride back from camp it was apparent that all four had a great time and were very thankful of our clubs sponsorship of their camp scholarships. Our attendees were Trey Pierce and Emily Pierce from Boyd High School and Taylor Honea and Meaghan Dempsey from North, we hope to have them at our club on July 8 to talk about their time at camp.

Today's Thoughts in Honor of ....

Forgiveness Day – June 26

"Forgiveness is the answer to the child's dream of a miracle by which what is broken is made whole again, what is soiled is again made clean."

- Dag Hjalmar Agne Carl Hammarskjöld (1905 – 1961)

Camera Day – June 29

The departure of our boys to foreign parts with the ever-present possibility that they might never return, taught the real value of photography to every father and mother. To many a mother the photograph of her boy in his country's uniform was the one never-failing consolation.

- Louis Fabian Bachrach (1881 - 1963)

A yuppie was opening the door of his BMW when a car came along and hit the door, ripping it off completely. When the police arrived at the scene, the yuppie complained bitterly about the damage to his car.

"Officer, look what they've done to my Beemer!"

"You yuppies are so materialistic, it's ridiculous" retorted the officer. "You're so worried about your stupid BMW, you didn't even notice that your left arm was ripped off."

"Oh, my God!" screamed the yuppie, noticing the bloody stump where his arm used to be. "My Rolex!"

Birmingham welcomes 20,000 Rotarians

Thousands of Rotary members from all over the world are arriving in Birmingham for the 100th Rotary International Convention from 18-24 June '09. Who are they, what do they do and what will it mean for the city?

We've all seen them shaking tins outside of supermarkets collecting money. We've all heard of The Rotary - now it's time to find out just who they are and what they do.

Who are they?

Rotary International is a volunteer organisation of business and professional people who provide humanitarian services and help to build goodwill and peace in the world.

Rotary Ad for the convention

They're non political and after often described as 'the mini United Nations'.

Founded in Chicago in 1905, there are more than 33,000 Rotary clubs in over 200 countries, with membership exceeding 1.2 million people.

What do they do?

Rotary clubs address critical issues at home and abroad, providing health care and medical supplies, clean water, food, job training, youth development and education to millions of people.

Rotary in Birmingham

The first Rotary club to be set up in Birmingham was back in 1913. Since then the city has had close ties with the organisation.

Local manufacturer Toye Kenning & Spencer based in the jewellery quarter produce Rotary lapel badges. The company has just produced its 300,000th lapel badge to coincide with the convention.

As well as producing lapel badges, the company is an official licensed supplier of Rotary gifts and regalia, and has manufactured Rotary items since 1911.

Boosting the economy

It's good for Birmingham's economy that the Rotary chose the city to celebrate its 100th anniversary convention in the city. The convention is expected to pump around £20 million into the local economy.

The Birmingham convention

The NEC will be transformed during the convention, as the focal point of the event. But there are events taking place all over the city and West Midlands.

The Lord Mayor will host a breakfast which will lead into several days of talks, workshops and demonstrations focusing on how Rotary clubs are helping to make a difference throughout the world. It's a chance to compare notes and see what they're doing well.

The convention will showcase hundreds of successful projects undertaken by Rotary members worldwide to address issues such as polio eradication, malaria, HIV/AIDS, poverty, hunger, illiteracy, pollution and the global water shortage.

Key note high profile international figures coming to speak at the convention include United Nations Secretary-General Ban Ki Moon, Nobel Peace Prize laureate Archbishop Desmond Tutu, Mia Farrow an Actress and UNICEF Goodwill Ambassador and advocate for Dafuri war refugees, Jane Goodall, a renowned primatologist and founder of the Jane Goodall Institute and Tom Hendersen from Shelterbox.

While the Rotarians are in Birmingham it's a great opportunity for the West Midlands as a whole to show off some of the entertainment venues. They'll get the opportunity to see a Medieval Spectacular at Warwick Castle, be given a Night on the Town in Birmingham – visiting the Town Hall, watching The Birmingham Royal Ballet at the Birmingham Hippodrome and taking in a Variety Show at Symphony Hall.

Throughout the convention Rotary clubs around the West Midlands are hosting events and entertaining their guests, championing the work they've been doing locally as well as showing their international members what the area has to offer.

Rotarians in action

Often the work done by the Rotary goes unrecognised – from UK projects such as providing days out for children to funding wheelchairs for those who need but can't afford them.

Besides raising funds for hundreds of projects, one of the Rotary's big campaigns is for immunisation. They have helped immunise nearly two billion children during mass immunisation campaigns throughout the world so far.

Education is also a key element to the Rotary's work. They "strives to promote peace through education".

In an effort to educate peacemakers and ambassadors of the future, each year they sponsor students to study courses including International Studies in peace and conflict resolution.

Students are chosen from many different countries from an array of professional and cultural backgrounds.

The interests and areas of expertise of students include public health, education, international law, economic development, journalism, and social justice.

There are also around 1,000 scholarships awarded annually to university students around the world to study in another country. These students serve as goodwill ambassadors for the Rotary.

Rotary Foundation Chair Jonathan Majiyagbe "It is this growing network of peacemakers worldwide that makes us (the Rotary) believe that peace is possible".
