Philip Banks – Legacy Travel

If you've ever tried to find a cheap vacation you saw advertised only to find much higher prices, or discovered that the hotel you booked wasn't exactly "steps away from the ocean," you know that the do-it-yourself era of travel can mean something else entirely: you're on your own.

For 25 years, Philip Banks has traveled the world collecting tips, tricks and advice to save money while on the road while making the most out of vacations. "Travel doesn't have to be expensive. With a little pre-trip planning and flexibility, you can significantly reduce your transportation, food, and lodging expenses" says Philip. From tropical to historical destinations farther afield, Philip shares his money-saving tips that only the travel pros know.

Phillip Banks has been in the travel industry since 1989. He leads a team of travel agents that were inducted in the Karisma Resorts Hall of Fame. They were also awarded the prestigious Apple Vacations Crystal Award and are also one of the top Funjet Vacations travel partners in the country. Philip was just asked to be a part of the AM Resorts advisory board. Philip and his wife love to travel to the Riviera Maya and London.

A Message from the President

With a July 4th celebration just over and another great flag year moving into full gear this club is off and running for another unbelievable year for so few doing so much. Each year the new President's first official duty is to call for a dark meeting day or in other words tell the membership we will not meet the week of July 4th. So the deed was done and now the New Year begins this Wednesday July 10th. No white horse, no fireworks, but a new Rotary year none the less. What will this year bring for McKinney Sunrise Rotary? What do you want to accomplish as a Rotarian in the McKinney Sunrise Rotary this year? My Dad was one to be involved in civic volunteer work all my young years and I would wonder just why he got so involved with service work. He was a good example to me and many young folks in east Texas and it seems to be in our blood as my only brother and sister have been involved serving others all their lives as well, how about your blood? Service Above Self.....the key word there is Service. How many times have you heard "you get out of something about what you put into it" Let's make this a year one we get a lot done for McKinney Sunrise Rotary and make a difference and truly change lives. Maybe our lives will be the ones that are changed the most. Will you help me help make a difference and change lives this year? This club has done so much each year but each year we start over to do so much. I am ready for the challenge this new year, you?

Matthews begins term as first woman vice president

As Rotary clubs continue to promote diversity in their membership, Rotary is marking a milestone. Anne L. Matthews, a Rotarian from South Carolina, USA, began her term on 1 July as the first female vice president of Rotary International.

“Women have contributed significantly to Rotary initiatives, and will continue to do so,” says Matthews, who is also the first woman to serve as both a Rotary Foundation trustee and an RI director. “No doubt, the unfortunate and sometimes misleading image of ‘an old boys’ club’ will be buried for good.

“Whether the job is done by a male or female is immaterial,” she adds. “What is important is that the individual who serves is effective in that role. With that said, I am extremely proud to be the first woman vice president and am thankful for the California pioneers who pursued membership of women in Rotary.”

A member of the Rotary Club of Columbia East, Matthews has served Rotary in numerous capacities. In addition to her service as trustee and director, she has been a regional Rotary Foundation coordinator, RI president’s representative, lead seminar trainer for the International Assembly, Future Vision Committee member, RI training leader, and district governor.

She is a recipient of Rotary’s Service Above Self Award and The Rotary Foundation Citation for Meritorious Service and Distinguished Service Award. Matthews is a Rotary Foundation Benefactor, Bequest Society member, Major Donor, and Paul Harris Society member.

She has a long and distinguished career outside Rotary as well. President of Matthews and Associates, an educational consulting firm, she has degrees in business, economics, and educational administration, including a doctorate from the University of South Carolina.

She has served as a trustee of Coker College, on the Advisory Education Board of the National Federation of Independent Business, as president of the National Business Education Association, and as a member of the Southern Regional Education Board of Directors for High Schools That Work. She has also served on the board of the Center for Occupational Research and Development in Texas and the Commission on Occupational Education, a national accreditation agency, among others. She is a member of Leadership South Carolina.

Matthews says she began attending Rotary club meetings in 1989, on the recommendation of her minister. It wasn’t long before she became actively involved in her club. Her most satisfying moments, of which she says there have been many, include immunizing children against polio in India, digging wells in the Amazon jungle, and preparing food for the hungry.

“I feel especially peaceful when simply sharing stories and facts with Rotarians about the good Rotary is doing in pockets all over the world,” Matthews says. “Seeing and hearing their reactions is particularly satisfying.”

From the International Convention

During the closing plenary, President-elect Ron Burton and his family were introduced. Burton told attendees it is an exciting time to be a Rotarian, and he believes the coming year will be one of the greatest Rotary years ever experienced as Rotary nears the end of its campaign to eradicate polio and starts a new era for the Foundation.

"I think anyone who's ever run a marathon would tell you that the longer and harder the race, the greater the pride when the finish line comes into sight -- and the greater the determination, to cross it," Burton said. "And that's why we're ready to start aiming higher in everything we do -- as Rotarians, in our clubs, and through our Foundation, with the new Foundation grant structure we've been calling Future Vision."

Burton said Future Vision is a new way of thinking about Rotary service, which includes learning to think bigger and plan for the long term. It includes focusing on sustainability.

"The goal of our Rotary Foundation has always been Doing Good in the World," Burton added. "Starting on 1 July, we're going to take it a step further: We're going to do the most good, for the most people, that we possibly can."
