Today's Thoughts in Honor of Work Like A Dog Day- August 5

"If you work for a man, in heaven's name work for him! If he pays you wages that supply you your bread and butter, work for him-speak well of him, think well of him, stand by him and stand by the institution he represents. I think if I worked for a man I would work for him. I would not work for him a part of the time, and the rest of the time work against him. I would give an undivided service or none. If put to the pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness."

- Elbert Hubbard 1856 - 1915

Book Lovers Day – Aug 9

"Books are the legacies that a great genius leaves to mankind, which are delivered down from generation to generation as presents to the posterity of those who are yet unborn."

- Joseph Addison 1672 - 1719

Three Men die together in an accident and go to heaven.

When they get there, St. Peter says, 'We only have one rule here in heaven: don't step on the ducks!'

So they enter heaven, and sure enough, there are ducks all over the place. It is almost impossible not to step on a duck, and although they try their best to avoid them, the first man accidentally steps on one.

Along comes St. Peter with the ugliest woman he ever saw.

St. Peter chains them together and says, 'Your punishment for stepping on a duck is to spend eternity chained to this ugly woman!'

The next day, the second man accidentally steps on a duck and along comes St. Peter, who doesn't miss a thing. With him is another extremely ugly woman. He chains them together with the same admonishment as for the first man.

The third man has observed all this and, not wanting to be chained for all eternity to an ugly woman, is very, VERY careful where he steps.

He manages to go months without stepping on any ducks, but one day St. Peter comes up to him with the most beautiful woman he has ever laid eyes on ... very tall, long eyelashes, well endowed, and thin.

St. Peter chains them together without saying a word.

The happy man says, 'I wonder what I did to deserve being chained to you for all of eternity?'

The woman says, 'I don't know about you, but I stepped on a duck!'

Florida Rotarians buy water tanks for village in Guyana

The Rotary Club of Daytona Beach West, Florida, USA, is helping a remote village in Guyana gain access to clean drinking water by purchasing 150 rainwater collection tanks for the people of Kabakaburi.

The tanks offer an alternative to the contaminated water of the nearby Pomeroon River, which can cause conditions such as typhoid and diarrhea.

To carry out the two-year, US$20,000 effort, the club has partnered with the Rotary clubs of Daytona Beach; Oceanside, Daytona Beach; and Stabroek-Georgetown, Guyana. A Matching Grant from The Rotary Foundation has helped provide funding.

The project began after Dr. Andrea Thorpe, of the Daytona Beach West club, traveled to Guyana on a Volunteer Service Grant. She was joined by a team that included Past District Governor Ron Denham, chair of the Water and Sanitation Rotarian Action Group, and a representative from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

"We got into specifics, speaking to villagers, understanding their sanitation and what solutions they wanted," Thorpe recalled. "The villagers came up with the solution: They have six months of rainy season, so the best thing would be to get water tanks."

She returned to her club with a plan to purchase tanks for the village. The response was enthusiastic.

"The fact that we can possibly eradicate a disease like typhoid [in Kabakaburi] by supplying clean drinking water is fantastic. The whole district became excited," said Thorpe.

Rainwater

Villagers "own" the program by paying a nominal $5 for the tanks and by building wooden stands and gutters to collect the rainwater. They've already installed 100 tanks and will put in the remaining 50 by the end of 2008, Thorpe said.

The Daytona Beach West club also plans to support the village's efforts to address sanitation concerns by helping residents build six toilets at a local school. Because of improper sanitation, sewage runoff enters the river during the rainy season and contributes to water contamination issues.

Thorpe said the club is looking to replicate the water and sanitation project in two nearby villages with high diarrhea-related mortality rates.

"Going to the villages themselves and getting their input is extremely important. Maintaining the project is key," she explained. "By doing this we are also spreading knowledge of Rotary." Thorpe returned to Kabakaburi in June. The villagers thanked Rotarians for their hard work during a ceremony marked by speeches, dancing, and handmade tokens of appreciation.
