Paul LeBon

Paul LeBon of Denton, Texas is a Nine time Missionary serving the Catholic Church on the Island of Cuba, most prestigiously working with the Diocese of Havana and the Cuban government on the visit by Pope Benedict XVI in 2012.

Paul has spent time in every province in Cuba from west to east and enjoys what no foreign journalist or politicians can – unfettered access to the country and its people. Paul has come to know the real Cuban people, their dreams and aspirations.

Diagnosed with Early Onset Alzheimer's in February 2012, Paul was the first American patient ever treated at CIREN – International Center for Neurologic Restoration with very positive results.

Paul also counsels Affinity Groups that wish to travel to Cuba under the US Government's People-to-People Program.

Paul wrote Cuba 54. Cuba 54 is about the wonderful people of Cuba and how they have been abused for 54 years by the Miami Cartel, made up of remnants of the Batista Dictatorship which was toppled in 1959. Among it's many topics the book details acts of terrorism perpetrated against US and Cuban targets by terror cells operating from Miami with support and protection from members of the US Congress.

The book debunks many Miami-based falsehoods about Cuban life, and lays forth a path to end this decades old grudge driven by vengeful & morally bankrupt Cuban-Americans, offspring of the remnants of the Batista Regime, most notably the sons of the brutal Batista Regime's Deputy Interior Minister Rafael Diaz Balart. The book is based on Paul LeBon's real life experiences and interaction with individuals across Cuba over Nine Mission trips. Those in the 'Miami Cartel' who claim to be experts on Cuba have never been there! Yet they inflict their rage and animus on the people who have refused to overthrow the man who destroyed their crime syndicate known as the Batista

And the Miami Cartel holds our government hostage as they perpetuate a $40 Million a year scam known as the Cuban Democracy Movement. Most of that $40 Million makes its way into the pockets of sycophants, hangers-on, and parasites in Miami who pay tribute to morally bankrupt elected officials and operate organizations which are rife with nepotism, cronyism, and corruption. Very little of that $40 Million ever makes it's way to Cuba. Many citizens in Cuba have been stunned to view the IRS 990 forms of these groups showing how much money they receive in the name of 'Cuban Democracy' and how much is squandered by Miami parasites. Cuba 54 will open the eyes of any moral citizen as to what is going on in Cuba as a result of the greedy and amoral conduct of the Miami Cartel.

OPENING THE DOOR TO POLIO ERADICATION

It's been more than two years since the last polio case was reported in Côte d'Ivoire. Time enough for people to become complacent about immunizations. But that would be a mistake – a potentially deadly mistake.

“The public sometimes doesn't understand why, after so many rounds of polio immunization, they are still being asked to bring their children to the immunization post,” says Marie-Irène Richmond-Ahoua, chair of Rotary's National PolioPlus Committee in Côte d'Ivoire.

As a long-time advocate for polio eradication, Richmond-Ahoua knows you can't let up against this tenacious and crippling disease. With Nigeria one of three remaining polio-endemic countries, the possibility of fresh outbreaks in Côte d'Ivoire is a constant threat. The only way to keep the poliovirus out of the country are regular immunizations of all children under age five.

During National Immunization Days (NIDs) in April, thousands of volunteers and health workers, together with Rotary and Rotaract members, canvassed the streets throughout the country in search of children to immunize. They traveled from house to house knocking on doors in shantytowns and rural villages. But gaining entrance to these homes required another round of convincing.

“Côte d'Ivoire has just experienced a conflict and people are still cautious. They don't want to open their door to just anyone,” says Richmond-Ahoua. But once they see the polio T-shirts and hats that Rotary clubs supply to identify vaccinators, she says they feel safe opening their doors.

Communication is also key to mobilizing public support. Rotary members use the media, television, radio, and even griots, African tribal storytellers, to encourage participation in immunizations. As a result, 7.5 million children received two drops of oral polio vaccine, along with vitamin A supplements and de-worming tablets, during the NIDs.

Supplementary immunization campaigns like this one are part of the comprehensive 2013-18 Polio Eradication and Endgame Strategic Plan. The plan outlines what is needed to eradicate all polio disease by 2018. In June the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation announced a new fundraising agreement with Rotary. If successful, the campaign, which matches donations two-to-one (up to $35 million per year), will help raise $525 million for polio eradication.

“Polio eradication is not an option, it’s an obligation,” Richmond-Ahoua says. “When you consider what’s been done in Côte d’Ivoire, despite the many obstacles we’ve faced, you are deeply convinced that polio will soon be eradicated.”

Today's Thoughts in Honor of Bosses Day – October 16

"A boss creates fear, a leader confidence. A boss fixes blame, a leader corrects mistakes. A boss knows all, a leader asks questions. A boss makes work drudgery, a leader makes it interesting."

- Russell H. Ewing (1885 – 1976)

National Nut Day– October 22

"All are lunatics, but he who can analyze his delusions is called a philosopher."

- Ambrose Bierce (1842 – 1914)

I was enjoying the second week of a two-week vacation the same way I had enjoyed the first week: by doing as little as possible.

I ignored my wife's not-so-subtle hints about completing certain jobs around the house, but I didn't realize how much this bothered her until the clothes dryer refused to work, the iron shorted, and the sewing machine motor burned out in the middle of a seam. The final straw came when she plugged in the vacuum cleaner and nothing happened.

She looked so stricken that I had to offer some consolation.

"That's okay, honey," I said. "You still have me."

She looked up at me with tears in her eyes. "Yes," she wailed, "but you don't work either!"
